Liturgical Jottings

Sacred Images

In sacred buildings images of the Lord, the Blessed Virgin Mary and the Saints, ... should be displayed for veneration by the faithful and should be so arranged as to lead the faithful towards the mysteries of faith celebrated there. ... There should usually be only one image of any given Saint. GIRM 318

Pope Francis

"Instead of being just a church that welcomes and receives by keeping the doors open, let us try also to be a church that finds new roads, that is able to step outside itself and go to those who do not attend Mass, to those who have quit or are indifferent." Pope Francis in an interview

Quote of the week

"If you are what you should be, you will set the whole world ablaze!" -St. Catherine of Sienna

Looking at the Readings

You may be familiar with the "Six degrees of separation". It is a theory that everyone and everything is six or fewer steps away, by way of introduction, from any other person in the world, so that a chain of "a friend of a friend" statements can be made to connect any two people in a maximum of six steps. It was originally set out by Frigyes Karinthy in 1929. In the current world of social media it has a significant place when one is trying to demonstrate our importance and celebrity. Today it is to have a 'selfie' with a celebrity and in past times to meet or even see royalty. This activity in no way reflects on our importance or merit. Imagine, however, if the royalty seeks us out and the roles were reversed?

Each of us is blessed to be only one degree of separation from the King of all kings. He is directly accessible to each of us and has promised to be 'with us always'. He is as close as our next thought, next breath and next prayer. He does not stand on ceremony or have a long arrangement of protocols to follow. Jesus is truly a king as the final prayer of our Eucharist declares "Through Him, and with Him and in Him, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all glory and honour is yours, almighty Father, forever and ever." Through all of Creation Jesus, the King of the Universe, gives glory to the Father.

Jesus does not exercise his reign through the power of ownership and domination. He has demonstrated in his life his rule of love. An unconditional love for everyone not reserved to those within 'six degrees' or who had earned it. This feast of Christ the King offers us the opportunity to honour our King of hearts, and ensure that our own heart is open and welcoming to his royal presence.

Who or what rules our heart? What motivates us, drives us along in life? Who do we make time for? "The quality of a person can be measured only by the quality of his or her heart." (Christopher Gleeson SJ)

Prayer from the Psalms for the week:

The eyes of all look to you,
And you give them their food in due season.
You open your hand and satisfy
The desire of every living thing. (Ps 145)

On the Lighter Side

How can a stranger tell if two people are married?

You see if they are yelling at the same kids - Derrick aged 8.

STEWARDSHIP PROGRAM PRAYER

Lord, we thank you for calling us to be your Church. Through our Baptism we are called to service and to witness. In the Eucharist we sustain and strengthen that call. By serving others we follow your example and proclaim our beliefs. By our Christian generosity we demonstrate our love and care.

Lord, help us always to worship you as you deserve, to grow in faith and service and to give without counting the cost. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen

Patriotic Catholic or Catholic Patriot?

Dorothy Day was a twentieth-century Catholic hero. During the Great Depression in the United States, she founded the Catholic Worker movement to help poor people and those living on the margins, and to challenge the nation to adopt laws that reflected Catholic values. She opposed war as a solution to world problems. She also fought for laws that protected workers. She went to jail several times for non-violently protesting policies that she thought violated the Gospel. Dorothy loved her nation. But Jesus was her king. Like him, she “testified to the truth” even when it put her in conflict with her country and a majority of its citizens. We’re called to be like her.

Jesus tells Pilate in this week’s Gospel that he has no earthly kingdom. Jesus wasn’t a politician, but he hoped to reshape society – government and religion – to reflect God’s Kingdom. That’s the work we carry on as his followers. For disciples the cross always rises above the flag. We’re called to be Catholic patriots, people whose faith shapes our patriotism; not patriotic Catholics, people who place national policies above Gospel values. Patriotism for Christians means using our political system to shape a more compassionate, peaceful nation – being a seed of Jesus’ Kingdom. That might cause conflict with other people at times. And it might cause us – like Dorothy Day – to protest when the politicians seem to be deaf.

Our nation separates church and state. That means the state can’t tell you what religion to follow. It doesn’t mean that Christian values should be separated from our political life. Christ calls us as disciples to trace each of our political opinions back to the Gospel. How does the Gospel challenge our national policies on poverty? On health care? On war and peace? On criminal justice? On environmental issues? On abortion?

Here’s a question to ask when we make decisions about whether to support a politician’s proposal:
If Jesus was our king, would he enact this?

What government policy would you want to see changed because of your faith in Christ the King? What can do you to help change it?

The Action Response

Make the kingdom real for someone this week. Bring comfort to the afflicted, food to the hungry, joy to the sorrowing, good news to the poor. Give someone else a reason to believe that Christ is the king you serve.
