Liturgical Jottings Ministries at Mass

Firstly the faithful form a holy people, ... so that they may give thanks to God and offer the unblemished sacrificial Victim not only by means of the hands of the Priest but also together with him and so that they may learn to offer their very selves. They should, moreover, take care to show this by their deep religious sense and their charity toward brothers and sisters who participate with them in the same celebration. (GIRM 95).

Amoris Laetitia

Love is experienced and nurtured in the daily life of couples and their children. It is helpful to think more deeply about the meaning of the lyrical passage of St. Paul (1Cor 13:4-7) and its relevance for the concrete situation of every family. (para 90. Pope Francis).

Looking at the Readings

The response of Jesus as he came upon the funeral procession of the son of the widow of Nain, was one of compassion. The widow makes no request, no prayer is offered, no expression of faith is sought or given; the mother is lost in her deep sorrow. It is Jesus who initiates the encounter with her and with her son. Looking upon her great grief, he feels sorry for her. He reaches out to her with words of solace: 'Do not cry'. Then, putting his hand on the funeral bier, Jesus calls upon the young man to rise. The gentle human sympathy of the 'do not cry' is followed by the authoritative words of divine command: 'Young man, I tell you to get up.' Jesus' gives him back to his mother. The words and actions of Jesus demonstrate that within his heart is divine power and authority along with human tenderness and sympathy.

This story from Luke's gospel is one to which Pope Francis refers (Par.8) in his letter proclaiming an Extraordinary Jubilee of Mercy 2015/16. This letter named Misericordiae Vultus begins with the statement: 'Jesus Christ is the face of the Father's mercy'. Later in par.8, Pope Francis says: 'With our eyes fixed on Jesus and his merciful gaze, we experience the love of the Most Holy Trinity. This love has now been made visible and tangible in Jesus' entire life. Everything in him speaks of mercy. Nothing in him is devoid of compassion..

Jesus, seeing the crowds of people who followed him, realized that they were tired and exhausted, lost and without a guide, and he felt deep compassion for them. What moved Jesus in these situations was nothing other than mercy, with which he read the hearts of those he met and responded to their deepest need. When he came upon the widow of Nain taking her son out for burial, he felt great compassion for the immense suffering of this grieving mother, and he gave back her son by raising him from the dead (cf. Lk 7:15).

That same Jesus who had compassion, has compassion still. He looks on us and loves us; 'just as he is merciful, so we are called to be merciful to each other'. (par.9).

On the Lighter Side

A parishioner wanted to prove a ghost really haunted the church basement. He arranged to take a photo but the ghost wasn't visible. He asked the ghost why? The ghost thought a minute and replied, "Well, I guess the spirit was willing, but the flash was weak."

During April, St. Brendan's Conference assisted 105 adults and 97 children, mainly through visits to our Welfare Centre, but also 4 Home Visits, and 7 clients who approached the Presbytery, for whom the Conference supplies aid to be handed out in these cases. Those assisted have a variety of circumstances, from being on salary/wages, various welfare assistance, through to no income at all. Our main outlays continue to be food, followed by accommodation.

THE DOOR OF MERCY

The door of Mercy is double –hinged,
Swinging in, opening out, sturdy, yet easily moved.
My friend says: *You only have to knock once, and you
only have to knock lightly.*

The door of Mercy rests on the threshold of need.
Its single key is kindness, which is always in the lock.

Faithfulness is its lintel,

Hope and healing the strong jambs either side.

The Door of Mercy might be splendidly red,

It could be an unobtrusive brown.

It will need to be carefully handled and its fittings are locally sourced.

Mostly the Door of Mercy stands ajar.

In spirit and in flesh you cross its threshold each day, often unmindful, but sometimes, and increasingly,
amazed at its potent familiarity.

The smell of the food of home wafts out, the blood of the wounds of the earth flows in.

It is not immediately apparent which side is which of the Door of Mercy,

Since they interchange fluidly,

pain and promise etched sharply on both.

Blessing is for all who come and go, stay and return,
helper and helped, all belonging, each be bestowing.

My friend says: *You only have to knock once, and you
only have to knock lightly.*

The God of Mercy, whose door it is, is always home.

A prayer for our Farming Families

Merciful God,

Our refuge and strength, our help in times of trouble.

We ask that You bless those who work the land to provide sustenance for us all.

We ask You to bless our farmers and their families.

May farmers receive a just reward for their precious labour.

We implore You, Loving Creator, let those who make decisions which impact on farming families, look with favour and respect upon those who work the land.

May all Australians play their part in supporting farmers in this most challenging time.

We bring all our prayers to You through

Jesus Christ, Our Lord.

Amen.

us to life.*
