Liturgical Jottings

Liturgical Vestments

The Alb: for Christians, clothing, especially, liturgical clothing, is meant to express the church's life in Christ. In Revelation the church is depicted as the bride of Christ who "has been given a dress to wear made of finest linen, brilliant white". (19:7), a garment which symbolizes both redemption in the blood of the Lamb and the holy works that flow from this new life (2:2-5). The white worn by the newly baptised, and especially the full length white alb worn by liturgical ministers, signify the church's common life in Christ...

New Dictionary of Sacramental Worship,

Pope Francis Encyclical

"The human person is called "to live in communion with God, with others and with all creatures." (Laudato Si 240)

Looking at the Readings

The gospel today presents a call to "stand ready", because we do not know when the Lord will come. Perhaps as we hear this, we think first of the need to be ready for the time our life will end, and we will be called upon to give an account of ourselves before the judgement seat of God. Such a call to be ready for an unexpected death at any time is salutary and sobering indeed, and it is a very good message to take away with us today. While we are in good health it is easy to become complacent, and forget how fragile our grip on life is.

But perhaps there is more for us here. We need to stand ready to meet the Lord at every moment of every day, not only at the end of life. We need to "find God in all things" as St Ignatius would say. It is not only at the end of life that we are called to discern and respond to the presence of God, in every person and every created thing that make up our every day. Are we ready for this?

A Blessing for the Week

Through the example of Saint Mary of the Cross, ... may you learn to recognize God's will for you ...
 and trust in his providence...
 May her life of service awaken in you ...
 a deep respect for the poor...
 and a strong will for justice...
 May you share in her courage, ...
 see with the eyes of Christian love, ...
 and learn from her holy deeds. Amen.

The End Is Near?

Luke wrote this week's Gospel for early Christians who expected Jesus to return fairly soon. He urges Christians to be prepared, but he is also sceptical of people who claim to know when or how he's coming.

That's good advice for us. We don't know how the world will end. People who claim to find details about it in the Scriptures usually are misreading the Bible. We need to steer clear of people who use fear tactics to spread the Gospel. Our God motivates through love, not fear, always reminding us that we're loved despite our sins. So don't worry about whether the world might end before you're "good enough" in God's eyes.

It's our job to wait, not worry. We wait by praying and worshipping. We wait by doing our best and acknowledging our shortcomings. We wait by serving the poor. We wait by opening up to people we trust. When you wait in these days, you'll be surprised. Suddenly you'll realise God's grace and peace is with you – and the Master has arrived.

Can you remember a time when you were suddenly surprised because you felt like God was with you?

The Action

Test out your own version of blind faith this week. Can you trust God to care for all your problems? First you need to hand them over. Worried about a test, game, or family issue? Communicate with God. In order to work on your faith life, dare to be different in your ways of prayer. Find out what best matches your style of prayer so you can better trust God.

Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA)
for those wishing to become a Catholic

The Rite of Christian Initiation for 2016 will begin on Thursday 1st September at 7.30pm in the

Mons Peter Jeffery Centre

- We invite people interested in becoming a Catholic to contact the Parish Office
- The RCIA team are looking for two new members to join this Parish Ministry, so if you think you would enjoy sharing your faith with others; we would love to hear from you.

The RCIA process of becoming a Catholic is continually active in our Parish. I often think of the courage and commitment people make when they take on this journey. I think as a Parish we can be more active in seeking out those in our community who are searching for a connection to a caring community where their faith can be nourished.

If you have any queries or would like to become either a helper or new member of the Parish please contact Fr. Joe, Fr. Berny or Anthony on 5821 2633.
