Liturgical Jottings

Imagination part 4.

This practical task of the liturgical imagination, involving translation, adaptation and creation, can be aided by a simple, five-stage process. These stages constitute the passage from liturgical text to liturgical act and planning as well. The five stages are: (1) preparing the text; (2) dwelling with the text; (3) locating the text; (4) enlivening the text; and, (5) enacting the text. Each of these involves the imagination in a variety of ways. The New Dictionary of Sacramental Worship.

Laudato Si

Far from offering a naïve condemnation of capitalism, Pope Francis provides an intelligent critique of the limits of the market, especially where it fails to provide for the poor. "Profit, he says, "cannot be the sole criterion of our decisions (No. 187). Commentary by Fr. James Martin SJ (America Magazine).

Looking at the Readings

The challenge of an appropriate attitude to money and wealth for followers of Jesus continues in today's gospel. The contrast between the rich man (unnamed, he has no identity before God) and the poor man Lazarus, in this life and in the next life, is graphic indeed. The rich man's total change of fortune is brought about by his refusal to even notice, let alone respond to, the desperate needs of Lazarus right outside his palatial home. His plea that Lazarus might be sent to warn his family, to prevent them making the same mistake, is rejected because they have the consistent message of Moses and the prophets (seen clearly in the First Readings over the last weeks) which they choose to ignore, and they would not listen even if confronted by someone risen from the dead (as did Jesus himself).

So we, who have that message of Moses and the prophets, and who know Jesus as the Risen Lord, are called in our place and time to notice, to listen and respond. We are called to an attitude to property and wealth that does notice and respond generously to the needs of people in our various communities, people suffering real deprivation, poverty and hunger, while comparatively we are very well off indeed. What messages do we send through our local awareness and engagement, or lack of interest or response? What messages do we send to our Government about the need to share with those in need around the world?

Quote for the Week

Dives is punished for his pride, not his wealth, and Lazarus is rewarded for his humility, not his poverty. The proof lies in the fact that both Abraham, a rich man and Lazarus the poor man, share space in heaven. St Augustine.

On the Lighter Side

A politician dies and is met by St Peter who gives him a choice of Heaven or Hell. He must decide after spending a day in each. In Hell he is greeted by many friends, plays golf, dines magnificently. In heaven he meets new people and plays music. St Peter asks for his choice, he elects for Hell. He is greeted by the Devil into a stinking sweltering hole. He asks "Where are my friends, the golf and dining room?" Satan replies: "Yesterday we were campaigning. Today you voted for us."

Ageing and its Social Justice Implications.

Today we celebrate

Social Justice Sunday.

The 2016-17 Australian Bishops' Social Justice Statement is titled:

'A Place at the Table:

Social justice in an ageing society'.

The Statement celebrates the value and dignity of older people in Australian life. It challenges us to recognise their significant contribution to society and emphasises this contribution should not be valued in mere economic terms. The Statement calls for justice for those who are most vulnerable and warns about a view of older people as burdensome or dispensable. To read the statement or for further details, go to www.socialjustice.catholic.org.au. Copies of the statement are available in the narthex & side entrance.

A Prayer For All Ages

God of all creation, you are timeless and beyond all ages.

We who are growing old give thanks for the years you have given us - for family, friends and all those who have enriched our lives.

We who are not yet old give thanks for the older people in our lives:

for grandparents, loved ones, friends and all who generously offer the wise counsel of their years.

We who are growing old pray that we may be patient with our ageing limbs and difficulties in everyday tasks we once did much more easily.

We who are not yet old pray for patience and kindness towards those who do not move as quickly as we would sometimes like.

We who are growing old pray for good health in our later years, and forbearance when our health fails us.

We who are not yet old pray for good health for those we love and compassion towards those who suffer ill health.

We who are growing old pray for prudence and sweet timing, in offering our wisdom to the next generation, while respecting their energy and creativity.

We who are not yet old pray for openness and humility in receiving the advice and guidance of our elders.

We who are growing old pray that we may face our death with serenity and dignity.

We who are not yet old pray that we affirm the sacredness of each person's life and accompany those who are dying with gentleness and deep respect.

God of endless love, help us to understand that we share a common life journey,

a call to live life to the full and to strive to enable all creation to come to the fullness of the Cosmic Christ.

Amen
