Romans 5:1-2, 5-8

Lenten Focus: Prayer

The Gospel on Ash Wednesday serves as an overture for Lent, presenting three exercises: Prayer, Fasting and Almsgiving. Prayer is too wide and multi-varied activity to treat briefly. The Christian is encouraged to give extra attention to prayer during Lent. Individual or private prayer, communal prayer and liturgical prayer are three ways. The Scrutinies in the Rites of Christian Initiation of Adults have a particular pattern of prayer in which the congregation asks God to assist the catechumens on their path of conversion: to heal, enlighten, strengthen and fill them with the spirit of Christ. In the fifth week of Lent the Lord's Prayer, is presented to them as the paradigm for all Christian Prayer.

Quote for the Week

If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.
(Response, Sunday)

Looking at the Readings

All people thirst for meaning, but of what does that meaning consist? The people in the desert thirsted for water, but they misunderstood their thirst. The woman of Samaria thirsted. Her conversation with Jesus showed that she thirsted for understanding and insight as well as water. For what do we thirst in this world of such great excess and unmeasured need? Life has not become simpler with all of our advances. We still thirst for more – for the newest, the fastest and the best. How much is enough, and when do we cross the line into 'too much'?

The gospel readings for the scrutiny Sundays very clearly lay out the choices that are placed before the catechumens and the rest of the believing community as well. This Sunday it is between water that quenches thirst and water that does not. Jesus identifies himself as the source of water that guarantees eternal life. He places before the Samaritan woman a choice that requires a step of profound faith. She knows the thirst-quenching quality of the water from Jacob's well, but she is not acquainted with the water promised by this stranger who is also an enemy of her people. The choice is not an obvious one. A similar choice is placed before us. We know the demands of our culture and the circumstances of our lives. Are we able to acknowledge the sins of which we are guilty, recognise the grace that is being offered to us, and make the right choice? © Dianne Bergant CSS.

Pope Francis on Lent

The Apostle Paul tells us that "the love of money is the root of all evils" (1 Tim 6:10). It is the main cause of corruption and a source of envy, strife and suspicion. Money can come to dominate us, even to the point of becoming a tyrannical idol. Instead of being an instrument at our service for doing good and showing solidarity towards others, money can chain us and the entire world to a selfish logic that leaves no room for love and hinders peace.
(Lenten Pastoral 2017 para 2)

On the Lighter Side

Two men meet on the street: "How are you?" one asks. The other replies: "I'm fine, thanks." "And how's your son? Is he still unemployed?" "Yes, he is. But he is meditating now." "Meditating? What's that?" "I don't know. But it's better than sitting around doing nothing!"

THANK YOU!

The following is part of a beautiful letter written by Mal and Bernadette Snelling. The complete letter is available in the Narthex and side door. Parishioners are welcome to take a copy which includes the prayer to St. Jude.

Thank you to the people of St. Brendan's community for all their support and prayers; and also to St. Jude the patron Saint to whom we pray for hope when we are told there is none. Five years ago I was told I had oesophageal cancer and had less than 12 months to live; for my wife and I it was the toughest times in our lives. It was also at this time that we first met Fr. Rob Galea, and it was with Fr Rob's prayers and spiritual support and that of the parish community that we kept our faith burning brighter than ever. Mass every Sunday with Fr. Rob and Fr. Joe praying with us, and the beautiful music and singing by Dale and his team of singers was one of the best times of the week as it took us to a peaceful place.

THE SANCTITY OF WORK

7 Ways to Find God in Your Ordinary Life

cont.....

4. Making time for people and friendships (evangelization apostolate)

We're called to love God and one another. We called to love God through and another. So every day it's important to set aside time to demonstrate our love, in deeds, not just words.

The Christian apostolate—and I'm talking about an ordinary Christian living as just one more man or woman among equals— is a great work of teaching.

Through real, personal, loyal friendship, you create in others a hunger for God and you help them to discover new horizons— naturally, simply. With the example of your faith lived to the full, with a loving word which is full of the force of divine truth. (Christ Is Passing By—149)

~ From Scepter Publishers (Reprinted with permission - Nos. 5 to 7 cont. in following bulletins)

In 2017, may you find God more often in ordinary moments.

And may you be successful serving others through the apostolate of your work.
